

John Company

League of Kalamazoo. The League's aim is to use non-violent, direct, effective action against all in the Kalamazoo area who do not respect every human life. Three area couples, Steve and Kathy Kucinich, Jim and Lorijo Nerad, and Howard and Rebecca Peak, organized the League in August after being inspired and challenged by the writings and actions of pro-life activists Franky Schaeffer and Joseph Scheidler.

The rally broke up about 4 pm, but most of the protestors promised they would be back.

"This is not the only demonstration," said one. "We would like to be out here at least once a month. We are not going to go away."

by ion

tactics

said. "However, at the same time, big business gets a long-term tax break, while the farmer, through hard work from dawn 'til set of sun, feeds us all and faces foreclosure on his farm."

Asked Vaar, "Do you wonder why Proposal C is on the ballot?"